

Succeed in Sync with Your SoulSM And The Passion TestTM

By Sasha Sabbeth
Leadership Soul CoachTM

Succeed In Sync With Your SoulSM

To Succeed In Sync With Your SoulSM is both an intention as well as evidence of living a life where your Soul is honored via your passions, values, priorities, and gifts. Designing your life to respect your uniqueness in this way then defines your nonnegotiable perception of success. Creating a passionate life becomes your steadfast resolution in this life time.

The secret is to both love your self enough and to believe that it is possible to have a life composed of what is truly most important to you. You get to a point where you draw a line in the sand and say, "It is my time! I take my power back! I will find a way to have the life that I want!"

This is where your Soul stamps its foot on some metaphorical ground and says, "Life, here I come! I will not live a mediocre existence! I CAN make a difference of contribution. I will not turn my back on my dreams! "I WILL BE the best that I can be!" It is a declaration to the Universe, and anyone else who is listening, that what lies in your heart will show up in your outer reality. When your Soul unleashes this bellowing cry, watch what happens!

The Passion TestTM: The Effortless Path To Discovering Your Destiny

The first step is to discover what really matters most to you. Your passions are what you hunger to do, to be and to have as you create your life masterpiece. The Passion TestTM, developed by Janet and Chris Attwood, is a simple, yet life-changing process that uncovers what you profoundly care about and sets into motion what you must have to feel that you are living YOUR life. Their book, The Passion Test, attained New York Times Best Sellers list in the first week of its release.

Testimonials: "I am currently the Vice President of a Fortune 500 company. My profession is so consuming that I don't necessarily take enough time to really reflect upon what's important to me. The particular value of the Passion Test is that it brought me clarity as to where to put my intention and attention to make my life's journey the most powerful and positive that it can be. This was not just another exercise. This was about Sasha supporting me in achieving my life's destiny."

- Carolyn Pineda: Sabre Airline Solutions - Vice President

"Sasha Sabbeth is a force to be reckoned with. She has a quiet, precise power that allows her to be completely clear about her insights. She quickly brought me to the recognitions I needed about my life which helped me refocus my business for greater success."

- Suzanne Sherkin: Highborn Communications - President and CPO

"There are two great days
in a person's life...
The day we are born...And the day we discover why."

- William Barclay

The second step is to consistently choose in favor of your passions. The Passion Test process gives you a toolkit that serves as your guide throughout your life in all areas of your life.

These 4 components assure you that you are living in alignment with your passions. They are:

1. Clarity of your top 5 passions

These are the passions that arise from your heart versus from your head.

2. A toolbox of principles that teach mental and emotional empowerment

This is a list of specific understandings, perceptions, and attitudes that allow you to more easily continue to live your passions

3. Design a roadmap of the direct route to the fulfillment of your passions

This is a path consisting of your chosen identified experiences that, once accomplished, tell you whether or not you are living your passions to maximum fulfillment

4. The Master Passionate Life Secret

This is a single guideline that insures your passions will continue to unfold at all times in the face of existing obstacles, limitations, confusion, and challenges.

Why Bother?

Do you think that having a life filled with joy and meaning improves your health, relationships, self image, spirituality, intuitive capacities, creativity, and, perhaps, your income? Yes! Do you think that giving up on your dreams steals your joy, inspiration, success, vitality, and positive approach to life? Yes!

The chaos and problems of our current world demands that we each find our own truth, source of joy, and ways to feel inner peace. When we get in touch with our passions and understand what really matters to us, it is easier to handle the challenges of life.

Creating a life to Succeed In Sync With Your SoulSM guarantees an approach to living that will help you unleash a greater joy to being alive. Additionally, one of the greatest healing potions that we can experience is the energy generated from enjoying and being grateful for our own lives. Being immersed in such an energy can uplift you and those whose lives you touch. May you start 2008 prepared, poised, and organized to launch your new year with infectious inspiration and excitement! May your Soul Force blaze forth to launch your highest vision of a life well lived and bring transformative inspiration to your world.

Sasha Sabbeth

Sasha Sabbeth is a Leadership Soul CoachTM and Certified Passion TestTM facilitator with 20 years experience as a personal and business development consultant with spiritual orientation. Her passion is to help others "craft yourself, your business, your world...to passionately live your Life Purpose Destiny". She uses the Passion TestTM as well as NLP, Print® Profile personality assessment tool, Self Hypnosis, Reiki, and various project design strategies to help clients connect to their intuition, core values and intrinsic talents to achieve their objectives.

To learn more: attend one of her upcoming workshops and visit her website at www.leadership-soulcoach.com. She can be reached by phone at 707-328-5632 and 415-328-2631 or by e-mail at sasha@leadershipsoulcoach.com.