Inviting People To Have A Strategy Session With You

Scripts For An Appropriate "Ask" by James Roche:

 "If you are struggling with this problem, I can help you. Let's get on the phone and identify the one key issue (one area, one problem) that will get you started and let's look at how I might be able to support you moving forward."

They respond "Great"

You continue: "Let's set up a time right now to schedule that call so that we can have that conversation."

• Alternative:

"If you are struggling with ______, I can help you. Let's get on the phone and Let's identify the one big idea that would accomplish _____ that will get you started and let's look at how I might be able to support you moving forward."

Never a free coaching call:

"This is not a free coaching call. We are going to do a high level analysis of what is happening with you. We'll look at where things can potentially go for you. We'll explore a high level plan for you. And, if I can help you, we'll talk about it. If it isn't a fit, that's OK. Let's still connect. It's free."
